1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the pump means of claims 3, 4, 9 and 10 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The structure claimed should be clarified. For example, the orientation of the conveyor and panels with respect to the "side," "end" and "other side" of the vessel is confusing, as normally a conveyor is oriented from a front to a rear.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by UK application 2 310 381.

The UK application discloses an oil slick removal device having a plurality of panels which are used to encompass an area and a conveyor belt for conveying oil into the area, as claimed.

With respect to claims 3, 4 and 9, it appears that such a pump is disclosed on page 2. With respect to claims 7 and 8, it is submitted that "comprising" permits more than the claimed number of panels, as shown in the application. With respect to claim 11, it is submitted that page 2 discloses "belt or belts."

5. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over UK application 2 310 381.

Claims 12 and 13 differ from the device of the UK application in recitation of the size. It is submitted that this would have been an obvious matter of design for one skilled in the art, as the application discloses "any shape or size," and therefore fails to patentably distinguish over the UK application.

6. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over UK application 2 310 381 in view of Wells.

Claim 10 differs from the UK application in recitation of the pumps being below the vessel to provide steerable thrust. The use of such pumps to direct oil to a spill removal means is known, as disclosed by Wells. It would therefore have been obvious for one skilled in the art to make the pump of the UK application of such a configuration, to enable the vessel and the spill to be guided.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references cited in the PCT Search Report have been made of record. Other references of interest include Eller, Strange, Pettersen, Dickie, Koster, Ross, Poche and Marocchio.
